BIG LANDSCAPES. LONG SUNSETS.

THE SPIRIT OF KENTUCKY SURROUNDS THE DISTILLERY.

"Bourbon and Kentucky are one and the same." That's what master distiller Fred Noe said and it's something we see everyday. Surrounded by the rolling hills of Appalachia and towering rackhouses that date back a century, the grounds where bourbon began are tried-and-true Kentucky. You can feel it on the front porch. You can taste it at the Kitchen Table. You can see it when the sun sets over hundreds of acres of history.

STORIED BOURBONS AND GOOD STORIES.

TWO CENTURIES IN THE MAKING.

There's no hospitality like Kentucky hospitality. For over 200 years, we've welcomed friends from far and wide with the warmth of family. We open our doors, pour a couple drinks and talk on a first name basis. It'll be just like that for you and your guests during your time on the grounds of bourbon history.

Here's to seeing you soon,

Your friends at JAMES B. BEAM DISTILLING CO.
